FLIGHTS FOR FUND TO BE MADE SUNDAY

Congratulations to Ten Opportunitles were received Wednesday night from American Airways and Eastern Air Transport when Wil-lis B. Haviland, traffic representative of American Airways, and C. H. Dolas, operations manager of E. A. T., praised the Ten Opportunities campaign for going over the top and asked The Constitution the top and asked The Constitution to announce that the airplane flights rained out last Sunday will be carried through net Sunday.

All money received from these flights at $2.50 per person will go to Ten Opportunities families, making their way through 1932 just that much easier. Mr. Dolan and Mr. Haviland both said that requests for information on the flights have been coming in all this week and that they expected to report a large sum to Ten Opportunities Sunday night. Reservations may be made by phoning the airlines joint ticket office, Walnut 6040.

2 PERSONS KILLED, Peace and Good Will Prevail MARY E. WOOLLEY As 'Chris'mus Time' Arrives

Larders Full for Annual Day of Feasting and Merry-Making-Santa To Visit Poor. Fine Weather Is Promised.

BY WILLIAM 0. KEY JR.

There are big layer cakes in the pantry, fruits and nuts in dry, cool places, and turkeys, fresh pork and sweet red hams ready in kitchens today, for it's Chris'mus time down in Georgia.

In cities, tinsel, holly and evergreens hold forth in house fronts, while in the rear electric refrigerators as sings a song of plenty. Out in the country smokehouses groan with their weight of fresh meats, and even the men who as boys left their plows and moved "to town" are ready today to go back home for an open fireplace and to celebrate with feasts, reunions as many stand gifts.

Smiling weather today will greet the great thongs of shoppers in Atlanta, scurrying here and there in an eleventh-hour recollection of something overlooked; and there will be the usual last-minute bargains in virtually all the downtown stores. Too late to hang up the "Shop Early" sains, it is the day before Christmas, and local merchants probably will ring up their largest volume of sales. The forecast for today, as given out Wednesday by C. F. von Herrmann, Santa Claus of the United States weather bureau here, assures this vicinity of aplendid Christmas Eve temperatures, a bright, sunshiny day, and extends even over into Christmas itself, which, the forecaster asys, probably will be another beautiful early winter day.

In Atlanta and the rest of Georgia Christmas and the day following it will be observed as a double holiday, but department and grocery stores,

BY STANLEY P. RICHARDSON.
MOSCOW. Dec. 23.—(P)—Forced by an adverse foreign trade balance to "ship" gold in considerable quantities to meet its obligations abroad, soviet Russia nevertheless seems able to increase its supply of the precious metal from its own tremendous resources.

This is apparent from the latest monthly balance sheet of the "Gosbank," or stafe bank, It shows that in November the country's gold assets increased to 612,569,320 rubles (approximately $306,224,660) from 600,235,050 rubles (or about $300,126,525) in the preceding month.

The foreign trade figures for this period were not available, but it was considered certain here that the unfavorable balance had not been appreciably reduced, if at all, due to conditions abroad which results in lower prices for soviet products.

Last statistics published were preliminary estimates for the end of the first eight months of the year, showing that for that period the balance against soviet Russia in its foreign trade rose to 210,631,000 rubles (about $105,315,500) from 151,200,000 rubles (about $75,510,000) for the first six months of the year.

To make up this discrepancy, soviet rubles (about $105,315,500) from 151,200,000 rubles (about $75,510,000) for the first six months of the year.

To make up this discrepancy, soviet Russia must rely on two factors—since its currency is not recognized in international finance—the foreign currency it receives from sales in other lands, and gold. The supply of the former naturally—is dependent upon the ability of this nation to export its products and fluctuates accordingly.

Therefore, the importance of marshaling its gold resources is not being overlooked by authorities here. Figures on annual production of gold are kept secret. but mining specialists from the United States and Great Britain, who have been on the job here for several years, say the surface hardly has been scratched.

Increasing adoption of foreign methods and equipment, particularly those of America, is preparing the way for development of production on a comprehensive scale.

Fireman Overcome By Carbon Monoxide

City Fireman W. T. Holt, of 145
Wellington street, S. W., stationed at Fire Hose No. 2, was taken to Georgia Baptist hospital Wednesday night after he had collapsed in his automobile at his station from the effects, doctors said, of carbon monoxide gas. Fellow firemen placed Holt on a fire truck and sped with him to the hospital, where it was said he will be kept under observation for 48 hours.

When he regained consciousness
Holt told Superintendent W. D.
Barker he had been working on his automobile in a garage where two motors had been running. A headache resulted, he said, and he stopped at a drugstore for a relief. That was the last he remembered, although he succeeded in driving his car to the station before geolabsing.

$67,000 Increase Will Augment Nursing Personnel at City Hospital.

An increase in nursing personnel and a slight decrease in the operating supplies budget will be asked of city council in the 1932 finance sheet for Grady hospital, it was announced Wednesday afternoon following action of the hospital board of trustees in adopting the budget for next year.

Meeting in the office of Samuel C. Dobbs, chairman, the board of trustees adopted a total budget of $577,000 for 1932, as compared with $510,000 for 1931. This year's appropriation by the city was supplemented tion by the city was supplemented with $40,000 from Fulton county.

The 1932 budget of the hospital calls for an additional 30 student nurses for the white unit and 30 for the colored unit. It also asks for five or six more workers for the house-keeping department in order to keep keeping department in order to keep the hospital cleaner.

Although 66 beds have been added to the hospital this year and the 1932 budget calls for additional personnel to be fed, the board reduced the medical, surgical and food supply request by $10,000. The 1931 total for supplications and supply request by $10,000.

The 1932 budget does not provide for any new equipment. It is expected that the board of trustees will take ed that the board of trustees will take up with the county in the near future the matter of obtaining county aid for next year on a per patient basis. Figures showing the proportion of county patients treated at the hospital have been prepared, and a check on residences of patients has been made by the county commission.

John B. Franklin, who became superintendent of Grady this year, is perintendent of Grady this year, is seeking means of operating the hospital more efficiently and economically, and has asked the co-operation of all employes to this end. Mr. Franklin is trying to eliminate waste of supplies, and hopes to materially cut down the hospital's expenditures along this line.

Identification of Charles Gentle, 21, of Curran street, in connection with recent filling station and a grocery store holdups, was announced Wednesday night by city detectives. Harold Williams, 21, of Amarillo, Texas, was linked by a witness with a grocery robbery, it was said.

Williams and Gentle were arrested on December 16 in Lawrenceville. Detectives Claude Carroll and D. L. Taylor said that Gentle was identified by H. W. Cobb as a man who held him up in a Standard Oil filling station and took $21 on December 10. Gentle admitted that he held up F. E. Long at a Gulf station, 1730 Peachtree street, and took $5 in cash and five gallons of gasoline, in company with Williams, detectives said.

Both prisoners were identified as the men who held up and robbed S. L. Smith, manager of an A&P store at 471 North Highland avenue, of $35 on December 11, detectives said. Gentle was identified by M. Holbrooks, manager of the Shell station at Piedmont and Forrest, as the man who got $30 from him on December 12, it was said.

Senate Group Hears Pro-Land Banks.

BY FREDERICK G. VOSBURGH. WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—(P)—A plan to ease the farmers' mortgage worries by adding $25,000,000 specifiworries by adding $25,000,000 specifically earmarked for the purpose to a house bill for aiding the federal land banks took shape today in a senate banking subcommittee hearing.

The proposal was put forward tentatively by Chairman Carey, republican, Wyoming, as a half dozen representatives of farm organizations, the federal farm loan board and private banking told the committee what they thought of the bill as it stands.

Virtually all favored the general purpose of the measure, which is part of President Hoover's economic rehabilitation program. It would add $100,000,000 to the capital of the federal land banks.

Chester Gray, of the American

Chester Gray, of the American Farm Bureau Federation, told the committee emphatically that "intense emergency" requires passage of the increase in capitalization.

Figures showing that the proportion of delinquent loans due the land banks has increased from 10.1 per cent a year ago to 23.5 per cent this year were laid before the committee by Paul Bestor, farm loan commissioner, who urged the measure's en actment.

He attributed the increase in delinquent loans not to "any general break-down in the value of the loans." but to "the fall of commodity prices" gen-erally with their resultant effect upon the farmer.

Bestor asserted the banks were be Bestor asserted the banks were being as lenicut as possible in dealing with delinquents, but Senator Steiwer, republican, Oregon, broke in to criticize their foreclosure policy in the light of "complaints from the west." He said he had reports that the St. Paul Land bank had been particularly harsh and that others were said to be putting farmers and their families "out into the road."

Bestor replied that such conditions were shortsighted and regretable if true, but reiterated that so far as he knew the banks were being as easy on the farmer as possible.

He pointed out that only ninetenths of 1 per cent of the total loans of the banks are in foreclosure.

With the additional capital provided in the bill, he said, the board expects to be able to "extend every consideration" to the borrowers.

Vaudeville Acts At The Atlanta Aid Unemployed

Among the 10 acts of vaudeville being offered by the unemployed stage crafts of the city at the Atlan-ta theater, one of the most outstand-ing is that of Miss Kuni Gunda, coloratura soprano, who reached Atlan-ta recently and who offered her serv-ices to the bill for the rest of the week. LIQUOR WORTH $2,775 SEIZED BY OFFICERS

Liquor valued at $2,775 was nab-bed in the first big "Christmas whis-ky" haul of the season Wednesday morning when federal agents and city detectives raided a garage behind the home of B. C. Williams on Melrose drive, and confiscated 555 gallons of drive, and confiscated 555 gallons of corn whisky.

While the officers were pouring the whisky in the gutter in front of the home, Williams arrived on the scene and was placed under arrest. According to the officers he admitted that he resided there and that the whisky was his own. When arraigned before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith he denied ownership, but was placed under a $1,000 to the federal grand jury. He made bond.

For the cigarette smoker, man or woman, of course give Camels. A blend of choice Turkish and mild, sun-ripened Domestic tobaccos, they are kept fresh and prime by the Camel Humidor Pack, with their natural moisture unimpaired by parching or toasting.

In appropriate holiday wrapping, Camels come both in attractive Christmas cartons containing

For the man who smokes a pipe, we suggest either a pound tin or one of those crystal glass humidors of good old PRINCE ALBERT. Here is a present that goes straight as a Christmas carol to a man's heart; P.A., the best loved pipe tobacco in the world, all dressed for the occasion in bright Christmas costume.

What gift can you think of that will be more welcome or give more genuine pleasure and satisfaction?

Don't you hope someone will think of such a friendly gift for you?

We wish you Merry Christmas!

"But the world cannot quickly ad-just itself to important changes in the course of credit and trade, and at-tempts to maintain the international balance of payments by large move-ments of gold weakened the monetary foundation of many countries.

"Germany's demand for capital to fill the gap left by the war and its aftermath was met to a substantial extent by an influx of capital, estimated by the bankers committee at 18 milliards of reichsmarks. Though 10 milliards of reichsmarks was an offset to reparations, the balance 8 milliards, together with the Germans' own savings, led to a large development of public and private enterprises in the years 1925 to 1930.

"During that period of five years no less than 32.8 milliards of new capital were invested, of which 22.4 milliards represented investment by the public authorities.

Capital in Germany.

"But the fact that so large a proportion of the capital in Germanymuch of it repayable at a short term— was owned by foreigners made her pe-culiarly vulnerable to financial dis-turbance. The withdrawal of such credits involves a threat not merely o foreign exchange but the liquidity banks themselves. "The expenditure of the Reich, the states and communes during this period increased in similar proportion to this capital investment. Although revenue rose rapidly from 14.7 mil-liards of reichsmarks to 18 milliards. expenditure rose equally from 17.2 milliards to 20.8 milliards, and this an increase of debt which grew in

"When the crisis came, the fact that expenditure was on so high a scalemeant that the deficit was correspondingly large. In this connection the committee again calls attention to the system under which a substantial part of the taxes levied by the Reich is automatically handed over to states and communes—a system which means that control of expenditure is divorced from the responsibility of raising revenue to meet it. Drastic revision of European war debts became a strong probability as Président Hoover signed the morato-rium measure for the holiday now in Congressional committees ahead on national economic

The father and stepmother of Edith Riley were sentenced to prison for two years and fined for cruelty to 12-year-old child.

Senator Borah, Idaho, proposed sal-ry slashes for congressmen and federal workers.
Senator Carey. Wyoming, urged $25,000,000 to aid federal land banks.

The Baby.

(of Christmas Eve.)

I hold a baby in my arms tonight,
And rock the little laddie fast asleep;
Outside, the star of Bethlehem shine
bright,
And near me is the bleating of a sheep;
I press the curly head upon my breast,
I hold the chubby little hand in mine;
I sing to him, and oh! the sense of rest
That comes upon my spirit is divine.

When comes the eve of Christmas to earth,
And lonely, empty arms are aching so,
I seem to be with Mary at the birth,
And o'er the manger I am bending low;
I hold that baby in my arms tonight—
Alone together in the firelight.

In Lands Where Orchids Grow Wild, They Are Weeds Nobody Desires

-By Robert Quillen-Idealists dream of a time when greed will disappear and the earth's abundant wealth will be free to all—when the richest will keep no more than they need, and the poorest may have all they need for the asking. Will man be happier then, or healthier?

He will not-unless his nature changes. He will scorn comforts and luxuries because they are free, and uffer in the midst of plenty rather than lift a hand to supply his needs. Do you question the justice of that indictment? How can you judge the future except by the past? How can you tell what man would do, except by observing what he has done?

The goal of man's present ambition is happiness, is it not? And hief of all things essential to happiness is abundant health. Yet the ordinary man, unable to appreciate the value of anything that is free, denies himself the things that are most essential to health.

Why think him intelligent enough to profit by free medical care, free universities, free theaters, homes, food and clothing, if he now scorns and disregards more valuable things because they are free?

Do you know why primitive people and wild creatures have fewer diseases and stronger, more beautiful bodies than "civilized" men? Because no disease germ can live in clean air and sunshine. Because imple creatures, unguided by "reason," drink water when they need it. The poorest of men may have fresh air in abundance, yet rich and poor alike breathe a poison-filled atmosphere that lacks sufficient oxygen to revitalize the blood that is pumped to their lungs for laundering.

Sunshine is free to all, and men of all classes hide from it and shield themselves from its life-giving vitamins. Water may be had for the taking, yet the average man refuses to drink enough and thus forces his system to use again and again the poisoned water from his sewers. It isn't ignorance that causes people to deny themselves the three commodities most essential to health and happiness. They know the value of these things. But they simply can't desire or appreciate things that cost them nothing. It isn't in human nature to value a thing that anybody can have.

When everybody can have fine clothes for the asking, gorgeous aiment will confer no distinction and all but the simple will prefer comfortable and unwashed overalls.

Tiller Attacks Key.

Tiller was one of Key's bitterest criticizers. He claimed that Key had turned his back on labor when it was "labor that elected him."

Nance also was scathingly caustic in his remarks, and other speakers joined in the inflammatory addresses, charging that Key wanted to take a month's wages from all-city employes, that he "is aligned with reactionaries, and the city is now under the dictatorship of Atlanta banks, which do not want the city to pay off the loans because as long as they continue the banks are safe and can run the government."

Nance or Tiller will prepare a statement within the next few days setting out the details of the stand of union labor in the matter and will call on the people to rally to the recall banner. The statements must have the approval of the executive committee, it was explained, and no statement can be made without sanction of that body.

Optimistic Green Wave Arrives at Pasadena for Trojan Game ALEXANDER STRESSES TACKLING IN TECH DR

LONG JOURNEY TO ROSE BOW

Players Do Not Share Bierman's Pessimism Concerning Outcome.

By Paul B. Zimmerman.

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 23 .- (A)-Dubious as to the ability of his team to uphold the prestige of the south in Rose tournament play, Coach Ber-nie Bierman brought 35 of his Tulane gridiron Greenies into town today to make final preparations for the foot-ball clash with the University of Southern California on New Year's mistic. He said that after yesterday's workout at Tucson, Ariz., when his first eleven looked "terrible" against Southern California play, he was convinced the 28 to 7 victory he had predicted for the Trojans was too optimistic.

"Unless we improve a lot over our showing and workout en route, the Trojans will beat us by a greater mar-

"Outside of the practice sessions we had a nice journey. Bierman's players were as optimistic as he was pessimistic. Captain Jerry Dalrymple, All-America end, said: "We're out to beat 'em. Those two-two-one odds against us are too much." Bierman's assistants, however, shared his feelings that Tulane was due to be defeated.

George Haix, sub half back, probably will join the team in a few days. He was left behind because of the death of his father.

Bierman surprised everyone by saying his starting lineup probably would underweigh that presented by the light Georgia team. He said that while it was impossible to make a definite selection, his first team probably would be Dalrymple and Haynes, ends; Calvert, Decoligny or Claggett, Upton, tackles; John Scafide, McCormick, guards; W. There also is some question as to whether Francis Payne or Glover will be Zimmerman's running mate at right half. Payne is a great ball car-rier and would add materially to Tu-lane's much-vaunted deception. Bierman staged a long practice this afternoon at Tournament Park, work-

Full Strength Seen for Trojans.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 23.—(P)—
Prospects were good that the University of Southern California football team would be at full strength again today as Coach Howard Jones continued drilling the Trojans on defense against the invading Greenies of Tulane.

Orville Mohler appeared in a suit vesterday, but didn't do much work, while Tom Mallory, the other ailing back, watched the practice huddled in a heavy overcoat on the sidelines. FIRST BIG PLAY.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 23.—(A)—Climaxing sensational play in his first "big" tournament with a victory over the dethroned champion, George Kelly, flashy, fast-shooting Philadelphian, today held second place in the world's pocket billiard championship tournament.

'Twas the day before the day before Christmas. It was so hot that the Georgia Tech football team had to curtail its workout in preparation for the game with you here

Associated Press reports from New Orleans read that the California workout was cut short because of excessive heat and humidity.

Baseball players who come south to train do not call this section the "Sunny South." They call it the "Funny South." This is the section where government weather prognosticators become prematurely aged during the winter months. It isn't far from the gulf. It is even closer to the Atlantic seaboard.

Before the weathermen on the coast can get on the wire and give the local station the tip-off something that was cooked up out on the tossing Atlantic waves will be right here in our laps.

The weatherman may predict clear weather. At that very moment a cloud away out on the Atlantic may say to itself, "Well, well, I haven't seen Peachtree street in a long time. I believe I will go over there and rain a

And away it goes. And before the weatherman at Savannah or some other city can yell out the window to his pal here in Atlanta to change signals, it is raining.

The snow waits until spring when the ball players come in

But at that it's a grand section. People who live here and go away for a visit always begin to look out the window miles away on their return for some familiar object denoting the approach of Atlanta.

We've got lots of weather. As much, maybe, as San Fran-

ATLANTA WELCOMES BEARS. Atlanta is pleased to welcome the University of California football team to Atlanta today. Coast athletes have made themselves famous on track and field. The game Saturday, wherein the University of California's Golden Bears meet Georgia Tech at Grant field, will be Atlanta's first sight of a coast football team.

The University of California football team holds a place high in Atlanta's esteem. The sportsmanship of the team in the game on New Year's Day,-1929, was so fine that Tech and Atlanta have never forgotten it. Tech won the game by one point, and the strain of the game was great. Yet neither team forgot the code of the game.

California brings some famous football players. It also brings a famous coach, "Navy Bill" Ingram. Ingram has had startling success in his first year.

Frank Medanich, all-coast center; Ralph Stone, allcoast end; Hank Shaldach, Ed Griffiths, Bob Bartlett and others are all well-known players wherever major football teams are discussed. They and the great line held Southern California to a 6-to-0 score and defeated Stanford.

It's a great team and a fine lot of sportsmen and Atlanta extends the keys to the city.

The game Saturday should draw a fine crowd. Half of Tech's proceeds go to the crippled children's hospitals. And there is

A TOUGH YEAR FOR DIXIE,

Not in years and years has the Dixie football cause been in such a difficult position so far as intersectional games are con-

Four intersectional games were scheduled between the south and the coast. Georgia, the third or fourth ranking team, went into the worst slump in history and lost, 60 to 0, to the greatest team on the coast. Tulane, the first ranking team in the south, meets the same team that defeated Georgia.

Florida, one of the weakest teams of the year in the south made a great showing, but lost to U. C. L. A. And now Tech, with the weakest team in years, must battle what is probably as good a team as the Trojans of Southern Cal.

Tech's battered warriors, with the hope that springs eternal, hopes to spring an upset. Tulane, with Bernie Bierman dolefully pessimistic, hopes to upset the Trojans. But the way looks dark. Southern football still looks great in comparison with the east, but the coast is out in front. It is to be hoped that the Green Wave will manage to overwhelm the Trojans. If they can do them as the Red Sea did the Philistines, all will be well. Or do what Samson did to them with the jawbone of a college sophomore. Anything will do.

Snappy Drill Held in Rain for New Year's Game.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 23.—(A)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 23.—(49)
With a short but snappy workout in driving rain, eastern football stars who will play in the annual East-West charity game here New Year's Day, completed a round of activities today that included a visit to the Shriners' Crippled Childrens' hospital and attendance at a luncheon.

Andy Kerr, of Colgate, and Dick Hanley, of Northwestern, co-coaches of the eastern team, sent the squad through their paces at Kezar stadium. It was largely a matter of running with the ball to unlimber muscles. The field was soaked with water.

Head Coach Kerr said he would make no effort to select a starting eleven until the squad moves to Palo Alto, later this week, where the visitors will practice in Stanford stadium. The western team, under the direction of Coaches Percy Locey, of the Olympic Club, and Dana X. Bible, of Nebraska, took an indoor workout. Locey expressed the opinion that nothing was to be gained by going outdoors in such weather and ordered the westerners to report at the Olympic Club for setting-up exercises.

Members of both squads visited the crippled childrens' hospital. Net profits of the game go to the hospital's funds. Eastern players were entertained at a luncheon by members of the Big Ten Club, an organization made up of alumni of the Middlewestern conference schools.

What with Geergia already licked and Bernle Bierman and Coach Alexander in pessimistic mood concerning their Tulane and Tech charges, things look very good for the coast elevens.

The Jackets, however, do not share the general attitude. They think they have a chance to uppet their heavier opponents and perhaps outpass them and then stave off the attack.

Bill Tilden and Troupe To Appear Here in Spring Exhibition

NUMBERS MANY

ProfessionalTennis Promises To Boom Again This Winter.

By Ralph McGill.

W. L. Tilden and his troupe of trained tennis players will appear in Atlanta in a series of exhibitions probably in March, according to an-nouncement of Wednesday.

The entire troupe, which includes be greatest tennis players in the orld, will be brought to Atlanta for ne exhibitions.

Bill Tilden has with him his old doubles partner, Frank Hunter and Karel Kozeluh, the great European star. Emmett Pare, Bruce Barnes and Bobby Seller are also listed with the Tilden Tours, Inc. It is possible that Hans Nusslein, the young German sensation who signed last season, will also be included.

Professional tennis is sure to sky rocket to the top again this winter. Trust old Jack Curley for that.

He is doing very well with two wrestling champions. And since he controls the best of the professional tennis players he intends to have his own world's champion. There is always a chance that the two "champions" will get together. And when they do a very good gate results. TITLE PLAY.

Madison Square Garden is to be the scene of what Curley calls the world's championship professional tennis tournament. The dates set are January 4 and 6.

Meanwhile the Professional Lawn Tennis Association of the United States has announced its tournament, for the championship, at one of the armories in New York. The P. L. T. A., unfortunately for that organization, has only Vincent Richards as its front man. And Richards was defeated rather soundly by Bill Tilden feated rather soundly by Bill Tilden

At any rate professional tennis is o be very much in the public eye nis winter. And what with all the few York publicity Atlanta should be ready to receive the troupers with

MOONEY INTERESTED.

Jack Mooney is interested in the appearance of the Tilden troupe here. Some definite announcement of dates may be expected soon unless the plans unexpectedly collapse.

Atlanta saw Suzanne Lenglen once when that temperamental young lady was making tennis history. The Tilden tour is on a much more magnifi-cent scale and does offer the great-est tennis in the world. It is doubtful if there was any player in the game last season who could have de-feated Tilden.

It is to be hoped that the spring exhibitions will start the local tennis season off with a rush. Atlanta, with the finest collection of young tennis players in the south, remains lukewarm to a very fine game.

The Bravest Bugle.

The sheep's in the meadow-the cow's in the corn, The crowd's in the street-in the street of fear, So Little Boy Blue, come blow your horn With the clear, brave call of a braver year; Keen and bold, like the north wind sweeping Mist and shadow and spectral wraith, Over the world with the reindeer leaping, Rally us back to a braver faith.

Little Boy Blue, you will never know Just how far we have wandered away
From the valiant call that we used to blow In the golden faith of a golden day; Faint and low, like lost winds calling, Soft and dim as a mother's prayer, Seeking us as the dusk is falling, Groping for dreams that are never there.

One by one we have searched for the crown Or followed the phantom wraith called fame; And one by one in the lonesome town We've turned our eyes to the ancient flame From the hearth of home, with clear eyes shining, With young hearts facing the test of night,

Back to the berries of scarlet and white. Deep in the winter's ghostly shade, By crowded street or by lonesome hall, Little Boy Blue, as dim dreams fade, We turn again to the bugle call; The eerie roll of the toy drum lingers Under far skies where the fir tree waits, Music blown from forgotten singers,

So lead us out from a world that's pining,

Long since passed through the morning gates. Little Boy Blue-are you hiding still Under the haystack, fast asleep? Sound one note with the old-time thrill As dusk comes on where the dark is deep; One clear call from a vanished morning Of sleigh bells singing across the snow, Back with the holly wreaths adorning The braver dreams that we used to know.

How much would a great defensive fighter have collected in this period? Just about expenses.

Maybe. Dempsey is now pointing in the general direction of Carnera and Schmeling.

Alabama certainly must like to play football in Pacific air and California sunshine. It won two games on the coast, tied one, and, for the three contests, ran up a total of 51 points. But Southern California, in its two victories, made a total of 61 points.

The chances are that Southern California's running game and Tulane's passing game may produce some more points this time. A battle between these two doesn't look from an advance angle like any scoreless tie.

In the past 11 years the Pacific coast elevens and the invaders from other portions of the land have split even in Rose Bowl victories. There have been four winners for each section and three ties.

The double winners were Southern California and Alabama, with Notre Dame, California, Stanford and Georgia Tech the victors once each. The three ties were played between Washington-Jefferson and California, Navy and Washington, and Alabama and Stanford.

Looking over the Rist of the Mitch and thated, Tecanical and platenses on the source of the senior major league, as prepared by the league service bureau, one finds players from almost every league in existence, but precious few from down our way. It is an indication that little young talent was developed during the last season.

Brooklyn has recalled Robert Parham, whose batting average was 322 with Atlanta in 1929, .352 with Macon in 1930 and .327 with Hartford in 1931. Of course the Atlanta public is interested in Parham, as he played for the Crackers and Georgia Tech. He is considered a good hitter, but may have to do another year or so on Brooklyn's farm to improve his fielding.

Then there is Maxey Rosenfeld, who goes back to Brooklyn. THE CALL OF THE GREAT WORLD.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.
The Great World calls that youth may heed And from dependence thus be freed.—Old Mother Nature.

Soon or late to all the little people of the Green Meadows and the Green Forest comes the call of the Great World. Mest of them he his or what it means. With no intertion of doing so they wander away from home and parents and do not come back. The Great World has called them and they are answering it but onto know it.

I was just the way with Unc. I was just that way with Unc. I was just the family together and had worn herself to skin and bones feeding those growing young aters and keeping watch over them. Now, however, they were big enough to hunt their own food, and the Great World was beginning to call to them. There were so many of them that oil Mrs. Possum didn't count notes in the first time the spring that the same time. Goodness, no. The first one to heed it wasn't even missed when he failed to return with the rest of them to sleep the day away in their now crowded home. Two mornings later of the done. Two mornings later of the proportion of the first in the spring had the wasn't even missed when he failed to return with the rest of them to sleep the day away in their now crowded home. Mrs. Possum didn't count noses and so she didn't notice that this one didnot return with the rest of them to sleep the day away in their now crowded home. Two mornings later another was missing, and the next night two more wandered away. Then Mrs. Possum took notice. She counted noses and found only eight.

"Think," said Ol' Mrs. Possum, "of all the dangers the poor darlings will have to face with no one to tell them what to do or not to do." She sighed dolefully.

"Foolishness. All foolishness," declared Unc' Billy. "No one told yo' what to do and if yo' ask me it high time they-all were learning."

That very day another was missing. And so it went until only Runty was left, and even he was really out in the Great World, only he had chosen to live in the same part of the Green Forest that his father and mother lived. He didn't live with them, but he saw them often.

And so one by one and two by two orest that his father and mother ved. He didn't live with them, but easw them often.

And so one by one and two by two he young Possums went out into the reat World and most of them Uncilly and Mrs. Possum saw no more, et if the truth be known they were tot even missed after a day or two, twas a relief to be free of worry and care. So it is when children heet he call of the Great World, as heed they must if they are going to make laces for themselves. And who would are it otherwise?

LONDON—Trading on the stock exchange was quiet. Gilt-edge securities displayed strength on the United States senate's confirmation of the war debt moratorium and improvement in sterling exchange, the latter on Indian gold shipments and cessation of continental selling. Rubbers, gold mines and home rails hardened slightly, but otherwise the tendency was dull. PARIS—The bourse, on the strength of improved reports from Wall Street, showed better resistance, while transactions were few, prices improved and the closing was steady.

Liverpool capies said that induda-tion on the improvement in sterling had been taken by trade calling in that market and reported freer buy-ing of cotton cloths by South America. Exports today 44,709, making 3,793,-721 so far this season. Port receipts 23,020. U. S. port stocks 4,638,975.

NEW ORLEANS SPOTS

DECLINE 1 TO 5 POINTS

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 23.—(P)—
Trading was fair today in cotton but prices were extremely narrow. After opening steady, gains of 1 to 2 points were recorded. The market then eased off 2 to 3 points on January liquidation and hedge selling, closing steady at or near the lows, showing net declines of 1 to 5 points.

Liverpool tomorrow is due 1 to 3 penny points down on New Orleans.

Today was the last day for trading in December and there was considerable buying by belated shorts in that month—which went out at noon at 6.18, up 8 points from the previous close and 6 points above January. Tomorrow will be the first notice day for January.

Liverpool compared to 2 points were recorded.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

The Stehli and Hillcrest Silk Mills at High Point, N. C., have announced that, beginning Monday, they will give employment to 400 additional operatives, officials said they had already notified the workers to report, because orders in hand justified capacity operations of the plants.

Full-time operation for the 21 years will.

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN. CHICAGO, Déc. 23 .- (A)-Undernined by bearish action of securities and by desultory selling in preparation for a triple holiday beginning with Christmas, all grain values slipped downward today.

Argentine export offerings of wheat were of liberal volume and at low prices, with shipments both from Argentina and Australia expected to increase from now on. Some buying here was taken to be against export business, but mainly the overseas call for North American wheat was lim-ited to shipments from Canada via

Vancouver. Wheat closed changeable, 1-2 to 7-8

Wheat closed changeable, 1-2 to 7-8 under yesterday's finish, corn 3-8 to 3-4 down, oats 3-8 te 5-8 off, and provisions varying, from 2 cents setback to 10 cents advance.

Corn and oats sagged with wheat, notwithstanding that the government survey indicated an 19.7 per cent increase of the 1931 pig crop.

Provisions were a little firmer early with hog values, but met with some late selling on account of the pig report.

TRADE TRENDS BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LEAD—Buying is reported in fair volume with demand about balancing intake of the two leading domestic producers. The price is quoted un-changed at 3.75 cents a pound, New York, and 3.55 cents, St. Louis.

MACHINE TOOLS-In spite of an improved December business enjoyed by a few dealers, the December mar-ket in the machinery and tool field reflected the usual year-end dullness.

STEEL—Continued weakness in the price structure and the usual year-end recession in mill schedules are described by Iron Age as the principal features of a depressed market. Holiday shutdowns have reduced the rate of ingot production for the week to 21 per cent. Many steel companies are hopeful of resuming early in January at from 30 to 35 per cent of capacity. capacity.

TOBACCO—Due to a substantial increase in tobacco consumption in the past four months, total manufactured output for the year is expected to run close to the 1930 production. The 1.28 per cent decline in November cigaret consumption was the smallest in the last ten months. Cigaret output for the first 11 months was down 4.32 per cent. compared with a 4.56 per cent loss for the ten months ended October 31.

BY VICTOR EUBANK.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.-(P)-The bond market, after registering buoyant gains in the previous four sessions, today took a breathing spell of list prices.

Sales totaled $13,468,000, somewhat higher than Tuesday.

In the final analysis, however, it is was found that the average prices of 20 principal carrier loans closed at exactly the same figure as yesterday, with gains and losses equally balanced. The industrials reacted the most, with utilities slightly behind.

Losses in some of the transportation issues ranged from fractions to 15 points, but, on the other hand, a number of the carrier liens closed with moderate gains.

Among the weak ones were bonds of Atchison, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, Southern Pacific and Wabash.

Included in the railway list that showed gains were Central of Georgia Chisage. In the final analysis, however, it Included in the railway list that showed gains were Central of Georgia, Chicago & Eastern Illinois, Denver & Rio Grande, Illinois Central, Southern and Union Pacific issues.

Communications loans were off, American Telephone and International Telephone selling for losses.

Practically all United States government obligations closed down, foreign liens were irregular. Argentine and Japanese bonds selling more cheaply.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—The apostles of optimism who purchased stocks recently in expectation of favorable developments at Washington were badly shocked today when several bank closings were announced together with the news that some steel manufacturers were again cutting prices to keep their plants from slowing up further.

These developments had the effect of renewing liquidation and short selling. They also caused dumping of stocks by speculators who had bought in anticipation of constructive developments from the lawmakers at Washington.

Even the bond market began to exhibit signs of sluggishness and buyers were fewer than earlier in the week. PAGE CREDIT CORPORATION.

When the National Credit Corporation was formed, and institutions from all parts of the country subscribed to its capitalization, it was expected to be a panacea of most of the ills in the banking situation.

Yet little or nothing has been heard in the financial district regarding its operations. In fact, the Street does not know if it actually has been deing any rescue work. The announcemen of bank closings in the face of the existence of the National Credit Corporation is therefore a source of much wonder.

BANKS CALL LOANS.

Increased liquidation today also resulted from the resumption of a policy of calling loans on the part of the banks. A total of $10,000,000 of loans were called today. Owing to the difficulty of securing loans, these calls for payment are naturally resulting in liquidation. Call money is quoted at 3 per cent but much difficulty is being experienced by prospective borrowers.

The real price at which money is being loaned may be gleaned from the fact that New York city it will be of interest to see how much the government will ask for bids on Monday for $100,000,000 of treasury bills and in view of the high rate paid by New York city it will be of interest to see how much the government will have to pay for funds at this time.

The turnover of 340,000 shares exceeded yesterday's by, roughly, 40,000. Activity was largely concentrated in a few of the popular utilities and Electric Bond & Share was traded in large volume, slipping back 3-4 of a point to 10 1-4. American Can & Electric and American Light & Traction each lost about 2 points. Duke Power dropped to 65, but closed at 67 7-8, off only 3-8 of a point.

The weekly petroleum statistics, showing a gain of 1,100,000 barrels in gasoline stocks on hand, were not in gasoline stocks on hand, were not helpful to the oil issues, but losses were limited to moderate fractions, notably in Gulf and Indiana.

TARZAN THE TERRIBLE No. 82

The baffled gryf bellowed in angry rage as Tarzan's sleek brown body shot through the aperture in the wall of the gryf pool and out into the lake beyond. The ape-man's sole object, now that he had escaped the high priest's thwarted plot; was to return to the temple where he had last seen his lost love, but how was he to find his way again into the temple grounds? Far along the shore rose towering cliffs that seemed an impregnable barrier against his return.

Swimming close in, he skirted the wall, searching for some foothold upon the smooth, forbidding water level. A moment he listened, then carefully raised his body to the entrance way, his brown hide glatening in the moonlight. Before him stretched a gloomy corridor. Moving as rapidly as caution warranted in the unlighted way, he followed down it into the bowels of the caver BUSINESS SERVICE to another corridor which was dimly lit by flickering cressets set in niches of the wall. Numerous openings on either side began to appear and his quick ears detected voices not far distant. Again must he seek disguise, and having learned from experience how best to secure such, he crept like Numa, stalking some prey, to the hangings that shut off his view from the interior of the Several minutes passed during which a brief, gasping gurgle sounded from the curtained interior and . . . silence! Then the hangings were thrust aside and Tarzan, disguised as a grimly masked priest of the temple of Jad-ben-Otho, atrode into the passageway. His attention was aroused by voices coming from a room at his left. He stood with his ear close to the concealing hangings. Within, he heard the high priest's voice, talking with Pan-sat and thus, for the first time Tarzan knew of the king's murder!

As some philosopher has pointed out, fate deals the cards, whether in life or Bridge, and you are only responsible for the way you play them. The obvious thing is often the correct thing. The master player of the game of life or Contract is the one who can differentiate between the times to follow the obvious course AK109 nd the times to take a by-nath. In today's hand we have an example of the difference between doing the obvious thing under unusual circum-stances and of stepping off the beaten path as a means of reaching the de-sired end. This hand was played in a Duplicate Bridge tournament in Cleveland. The lesson is one of de-

South, in pursuance of his plan, overruffed with the trey of spades and led another club for the second ruff in other club for the second ruff in Dummy. Here the defense play varied, and the player who elected to follow the obvious coarse of discarding diamonds on the third and fourth leads of clubs from the closed hand failed to prevent the making of a game. With that line of play, the following situation resulted:

South is in the lead and West cannot prevent him from making both the Ace and Knave of trumps as he is forced to trump a heart and thus take the lead. At one table, however, West ruffed both the third and fourth West ruffed both the third and fourth rounds of clubs. Dummy over-trumped in each instance, but the game was saved, as South, in the lead, could do nothing except lead a heart upon which West discarded a diamond and East won and returned the suit. Thus, by apparently useless ruffing. West had found a way to defeat the correct West made to defeat the contract. West made a trump and the King of diamonds, while East won 2 heart tricks.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

I have been married six years. Four months after the ceremony my husband began to make dates with other girls. Before we were married he seemed to be literally crazy about me. He still claims that it breaks his heart to think of my leaving him. But despite what he says, his conduct gets more and more intolerable. His latest "fancy" has lasted many months and "she" is doing her best to separate us. I am rapidly losing my love for him in consequence of losing confidence in him. We have a little girl of four and her presence in our home makes me hesitate to leave my husband. Please advise me.

ANSWER:

I once heard a woman relate her experience in the Galveston flood. I recall her vivid description of hanging on to a piece of driftwood for 24 hours, waiting to be rescued from the water, in which she had been swept when her home was washed away. Although she hadn't a stitch of clothes on when rescued, although her consciousness was rapidly vanishing, although her morale was water-soaked, blind instinct for preservation of her life had commanded her to cling and she obeyed. She confessed that the bare recital of the events in connection with that horrible experience kept her from sleeping at night. Although her nervous system was permanently damaged by the ordeal she was a happy, contented woman, leading a normal life.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear woman, the moral floods and the winds of life have wrecked your home and have left you a piece of driftwood to cling to. Don't despair and let go. Your one hope lies in clinging until the storm subsides and help comes. I know you feel naked and bare before the eyes of the world. I know your keen consciousness is fading and I know your morale is all but washed away, but if you will cling and cling the storm may pass.

Any living sorrow lacks the note of finality that a dead sorrow has. When you bury your loved one there is nothing more that you can do. It is finished. When you lose your loved one to another, or to others, there is a great deal that can be done. And, no doubt, you are doing it. You can practice patience, self control, and even forgiveness toward that one. With the practice of these there is always the chance that you may win him to you. But you reply, "Love is dead." I answer, pride still lives and such a victory ministers to pride.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Midnight Preview

Henry Kimmel, manager of the Rialto theater, announced Wednesday that at 11:30 on Christmas Eve night (tonight) he will give a special preview performance of "Caught Plastered," the feature comedy which is to be shown at his theater for the week beginning Saturday.

The picture presents two of the funniest men in pictures today, Robert Woolsey and Bert Wheeler, together with Dorothy Lee in the principal feminine role. The Thursday night showing will undoubtedly prove welcome to late Christmas shoppers and come to late Christmas shoppers and others downtown on Christmas Eve. CALDWELL'S APPEAL Mr. Kimmel also announced that from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m. today any child who brought something in the form of foodstuffs to the theater would be admitted for no other charge. the city.

Hundreds Reserve Seats for 'Merchant'

More than two hundred envelopes with requests for seat reservations and enclosing the proper checks, for the Maude Adams and Otis Skinner engagement at the Erlanger theater were received at the theater office on Wednesday. This indicates that At-lanta will probably repeat the experi-ence reported from every city where the famous stars have yet appeared on their sensational tour. All cities report a complete sell-out for every performance before the opening of the performance before the opening of the engagement.

Miss Adams and Mr. Skinner are to present their brilliant company of players in Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice." Miss Adams plays the role of Portia while Mr. Skinner is Shylock. The engagement is for three performances, Friday night, Saturday matinee and night, January 1 and 2.

Manager Lewis Haase pointed out Wednesday that, although the box office has not yet opened and mail orders only are now being received, the privilege of making reservations by mails is open to Atlantans just the same as to out-of-town patrons. All mail orders must be accompanied by check to cover cost of the reservations and they are filled strictly in the order of their receipt.
